Gift of the Nile

If the Super Bowl and the Wing Bowl have got you jiggling in your seat for more belly action, then you'll want to catch the Playcrafters Community Theater production of The Gift of the Nile. The event will feature "International Egyptian dance artist" Soraya, who not only shakes her stuff at Trump's Taj Mahal on a regular basis, but has also performed for King Hassan and the royal family in Casablanca, Morocco. The Playcrafters event will also feature Middle Eastern dance artist Ayshah, who will perform veil dancing and Spanish inspired routines.
